This game is designed similarly to foosball. Press space to begin each point, You control blue, and red is moved randomly. Press w and s to move a column up and down, and a and d to change which column you are controlling. If the ball ever hits blue, it moves right no matter what, but if it is already moving right, it will change the angle. The goal is to score 10 points to win.